1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 18, 19, and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Odom et al. (2003/0178560 A1).

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claim 21 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Odom et al. as applied to claim 20 above, and further in view of Smith, Jr. et al. (4,122,339).

Smith, Jr. et al. teach in column 3 the use of the specific neutrons per second source for such well logging purposes as Odom et al., and thus would have been an obvious choice to use such specific source without involving the concept of invention.

5. Claims 22 and 23 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Art Unit: 2857

6. Claims 1-17 stand allowed. The prior art is not seen to teach the claimed inventive combination including the added compensation for the effect of neutron transport to create the compensated inelastic gamma ray count rate for the logging tool.
